The steadily improving trend continued with Scotland posting the second best team score in the 10 year series and New Zealand hitting their highest yet. Clearly the record of 5924 will be in danger again this year, and from either side when one looks at how well matched the teams are.

Scotland now leads 6-4 in the series, winning 6 matches in a row after losing the first 4. With reserve skill as shown in this match there must be every hope of extending that run.

Congratulations and best wishes to all who have taken part in these ten matches

Bob Normand,
Secretary.
