Eley Inter-Regional Match
Bisley, 7th August, 1992.

The annual match among the NSRA's regional training squads is now supported by Eley, who issue ammunition to all team members for the match.

Over the years, the NSRA has come to recognise the SSRA as the administrators of their squads in Scotland and the Association were invited to nominate teams for this event. The major difficulty in recruiting teams, for which National Squad members are not eligible, in tagging the extra day onto travel and accommoation plans for the Bisley week and team places were offered to those who had an interest in National Squad Selection Trials later in the year.

The Scotland representatives performed well to win both the Men's and Women's 3-P. While the ladies achieved second place in the Women's prone, the "Men's" prone team, which included S J Smith [a concession from Eley to allow us to complete a team], were 2nd= with South-East and only 4 points out of 1800 behind Northern Ireland, who fielded a particularly strong threesome for this event.

The results give an interesting picture of the relative strengths of the various regional squads.
